The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the English language. It is a branch of linguistics which deals with the changes in the English language over time. The study of the history of the English language is important for several reasons. First, it helps us to understand the development of the English language and the factors which have influenced its development. Second, it helps us to understand the relationship between the English language and other languages. Third, it helps us to understand the cultural and social changes which have influenced the English language.

THE LARIAT

Volume 20

PETTISVILLE, OHIO

As the Senior Class of 1950, we are the twentieth class to graduate from Pettisville High School. We can look back over the past and note the changes which have taken place through the years. We have come a long way from the one-room schoolhouse and the old-fashioned slate, which our grandparents and perhaps parents used. In this twentieth edition of the Lariat, we want to review briefly some of the past, take a look at the present, and peek into the future. Although we no longer learn our 'readin', writin', and 'rithmetic' with the aid of a slate, we still master these and many other subjects. In this book we not only want to give you a glimpse of our classroom life, but also of our other activities.

TEACHERS SCHOOL BOARD

TEACHERS
BOARD

The main project of the school board this year was planning for the new addition to the school to be built this summer. A great number of special meetings were held for that purpose since the project required so much additional work for the board. This entailed arrangements for voting on the bond issue as well as planning with the architect the new wing of the building.

In the fall elections, two new school board members were elected. They were Harold Schmucker and Earl Weber. They replaced Lawrence Schroeder and Lloyd Hull, who did not run for re-election. The other board members are Russell Gasche, president; Russel Schultz, vice-president; and Ellis Haskell. Mrs. Olen Genter again served as clerk of the board of education.

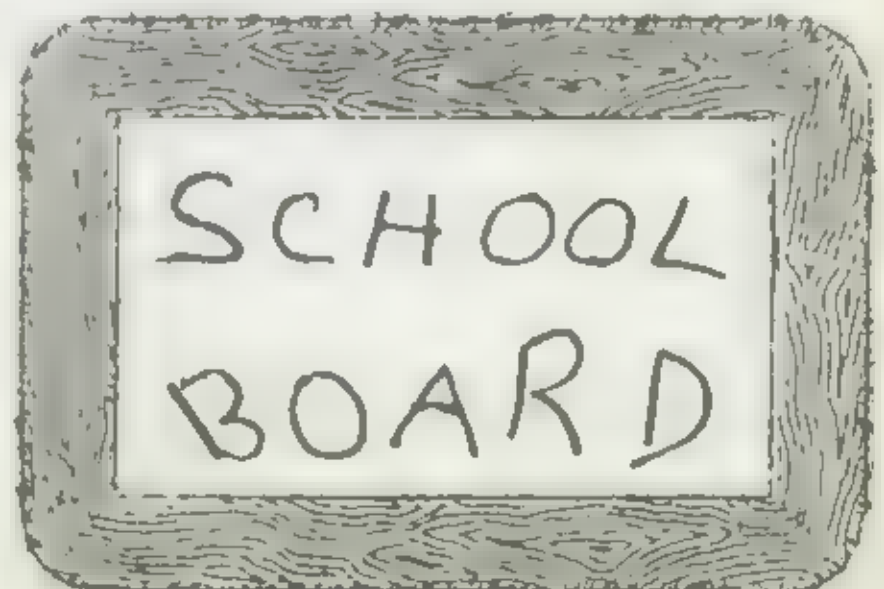

Mr. Schultz has been serving on the board for seven years. This is Mr. Gasche's fifth consecutive year. However, he also served a four-year period from 1934 to 1937. Mr. Haskell has completed his third year as a member.

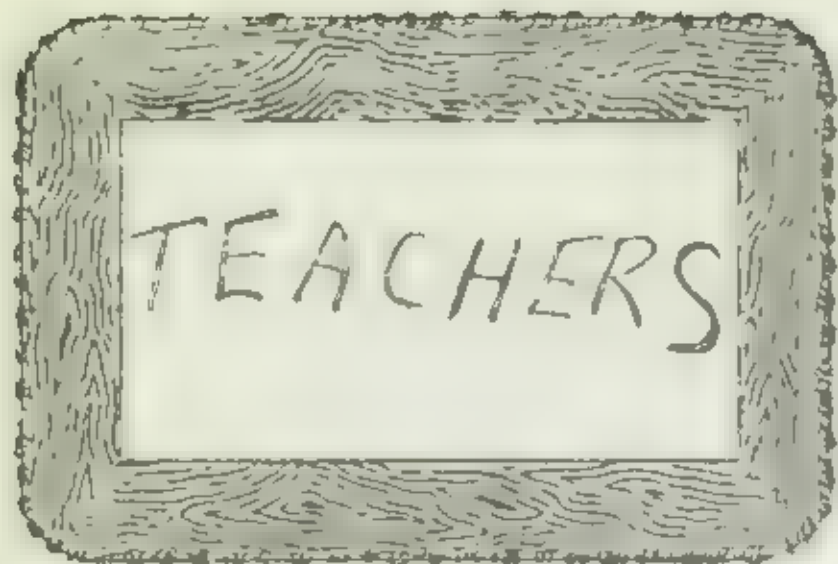

The board held a regular meeting on the first Monday of each month. At these meetings they took up the usual business of operating the school.

They made a number of purchases for the school this year. Several new typewriters, a spirit-type duplicator, and a large amount of equipment for the new vocational agriculture department were purchased.

In picture: Russel Schultz, Ellis Haskell, Harold Schmucker, Earl Weber, Russell Gasche. Standing- Supt. S. M. Gottschalk.

Mr. S. M. Gottschalk served his sixth year as superintendent and his twenty-first year of service at Pettisville this year. Besides carrying out his duties as superintendent, he taught general science and physics. He was also the sponsor of the Student Council.

The office of principal was again filled by Mr. D. E. Springer who taught the following classes: American democracy, World history, civics 8, and English 7. He was the coach of both the junior-high basketball squad and the baseball team. He also directed the senior play.

Miss Ruth K. Wyse is one of the teachers who has been teaching ever since school has been held in the present building. She again taught all the high school English classes and journalism. Besides teaching, she continued her duties of advising both "Pet Echoes" and the "Lariat." She was also the sponsor of the seventh grade.

Besides teaching several history classes, Mr. Mark Ray also taught English 8, mathematics 7, sponsored grade 8 and directed the junior play. This was his eighth year at Pettisville.

Mr. Robert Rex again carried the responsibilities of coaching the basketball squad. He taught health, algebra 1 and 2, biology, and physical education. Mrs. Rex taught the third grade. Both of them have taught two years at Pettisville. They live in Pettisville.

Mr. James A. Edington taught all music in the school this year. The choir, junior choir, boys' and girls' glee clubs, orchestra, and the band were all under his direction. A great deal of his time was spent in giving lessons, both vocal and instrumental.

The school's new commercial teacher was Miss Jean King from Wauseon, Ohio. She is a graduate of Bowling Green State University. She also attended Wheaton College in Illinois. She taught typing 1 and 2, junior business, and bookkeeping. She was the sponsor of the freshman class.

Miss Rheta Mae Hostetler, from Aurora, Ohio, was the new home economics teacher. She received her degree from Goshen College. Besides teaching all home economics classes, she taught several physical education classes. Also, she was the sponsor of the junior class and directed the production of the banquet.

Mr. Ronald Pollock was the school's first vocational agriculture teacher. He received his B. S. and M. S. from Ohio State University. This was his first year at Pettisville. He served as sponsor of the sophomore class. He is married and has two children.

Mrs. Ada Weber Genter resigned her position as secretary of the school during the year to take up the entirely different career of mother. Her daughter, Donna Jean was born April 14, 1950. She continues to be clerk of the school board.

After Mrs. Genter's resignation, Mrs. Gottschalk performed the duties of school secretary.

Mrs. Mildred Rychener taught the sixth grade as she has been doing the past few years. Her teaching is done in addition to her homemaking duties.

Miss Alta Spiess again was the teacher of the fifth grade. She also is one of the teachers who has been teaching at Pettisville since school began in the present building.

The fourth grade was taught by Miss Sadie Miller, who has taught this class for a number of years. She lives near Archbold and drives to school every day.

Miss Margaret Buckmaster was the second grade teacher for the second consecutive year. She is from Napoleon, Ohio.

Mrs. Florence Lindley, who formerly taught the second grade, taught the first grade as she had the year before.

Mrs. Florence Porter taught the kindergarten class. In several previous years she had taught music in the lower grades.

Ellis Aeschliman, otherwise known as "Ben," is the slow and deliberate type. One might think that Ben has a hidden personality, looking back over the excellent way in which he handled the boy's lead in both class plays.

Charles Beck will be remembered throughout the school for his whimsical sayings and deadpan expression. As Charlie once said, "All great men are dying and I don't feel well myself."

The hard worker doing many tasks connected with the senior class is Imogene Beck. Imogene's dark eyes express her thoughts without using words. She was an excellent basketball guard.

The chatterbox in this senior class, as everyone knows, is Lois Beck. An old saying that fits this studious senior is "Great things come in small packages."

A boy who you could always count on being late is Robert Eicher. His imitations of certain people will long be remembered and laughed at.

There's one boy in this class who is always saying the cutest things but never realizes it. He is none other than the bashful boy from the country, Ernest Fowler. Ernie would get places fast if only his mind were as fast as his feet.

Marvin Frey will go a long way in life if his ambition only matches his intelligence. He will be remembered for his class discussions and experiments.

The boy who is always full of mischief is Vincent Frey. Being a pretty fair skater, he loves to go ice skating during the winter months.

The neatest dresser in the class is Jim Grieser. This handsome lad is shy and bashful at times.

The busy blond girl in the senior class is Marilyn Haskell. She was kept busy doing mimeoscope work on the Lariat and in journalism.

A girl who will be remembered for her black curly hair and big eyes is Luana Leininger. She stayed after school many times to work on journalism and the Lariat.

Lois Merillat's nonsensical remarks gave many a laugh to some of her closest friends during the school year. She taught a few of the lower grades when the teacher was absent for a day.

Arleta Miller is the youngest girl in the class. Her large vocabulary sets her way ahead of the rest of the class in ability to express herself.

Glen Miller is the boy known for his lovely tenor voice. Glen will be remembered for his gentlemanly actions throughout his high school career.

The boy who was always in dutch with the teachers and was always making up time at noon was Kenneth Nofziger. He usually came and went as he pleased.

A fast talker in the class is Mary Alice Nofziger. Mary's dry manner of speaking is an unusual characteristic. Her cheery smile wins her many friends.

The boy who was awarded the boy's sportsmanship medal in the class is William Nofziger. He can't be rushed and is an able arguer and is willing to practice arguing anytime. This lone non-dater of the class sang baritone in many ensembles, boy's glee, and choir.

A nice boy with a nice smile is Marlin Rupp. Marlin's interest in book-keeping resulted in many awards both state and local.

Richard Sharman is the live wire in the class. He would do almost anything for a laugh. Dick's actions are as loose-jointed as a skeleton.

Anna Spengler's wild imagination carried her through high school with flying colors. She was active in many organizations, both class plays, and was awarded the citizenship and sportsmanship medals. Anna was always active in many sports, and loved to play softball.

Gail Weber's personality is described best by the statement, "Not always right but never wrong." He was always more interested in things outside rather than in school.

The quiet, sweet girl in this class is Bueta Yoder. She was very still and even-tempered and always had a smile for everyone. During her senior year she was Mr. Springer's secretary.

The class of 1950 began the freshman year at school with twenty-seven members. Class officers that year were president, Imogene Beck; vice-president, Bob Eichor; secretary-treasurer, Glen Miller; sponsor, Mr. Kinney. The highlight of that year was being initiated by the sophomores. Since that year, seven students have withdrawn from the class.

Marilyn Haskell was the president of the class during the sophomore year; Ernest Fowler was vice-president; Anna Spengler was secretary-treasurer; and Miss Stockburger was sponsor. Two new members Ernest Fowler and Dick Sharman, lent additional life to the class. The big occasion of the year was initiating the freshmen.

In the junior year, William Nofziger was chosen president, Luana Leininger, vice-president, and Lois Beck, secretary-treasurer. The play, "Now and Forever," was one of the two highlights of the year. It was given before a large audience two nights in succession. After a lot of hustle, bustle, and hard work, the class finally got the auditorium prepared for the junior-senior banquet. The affair was planned around an Indian theme. In the latter part of April, the class, with the seniors, took the trip to Columbus, where a number of state institutions were visited.

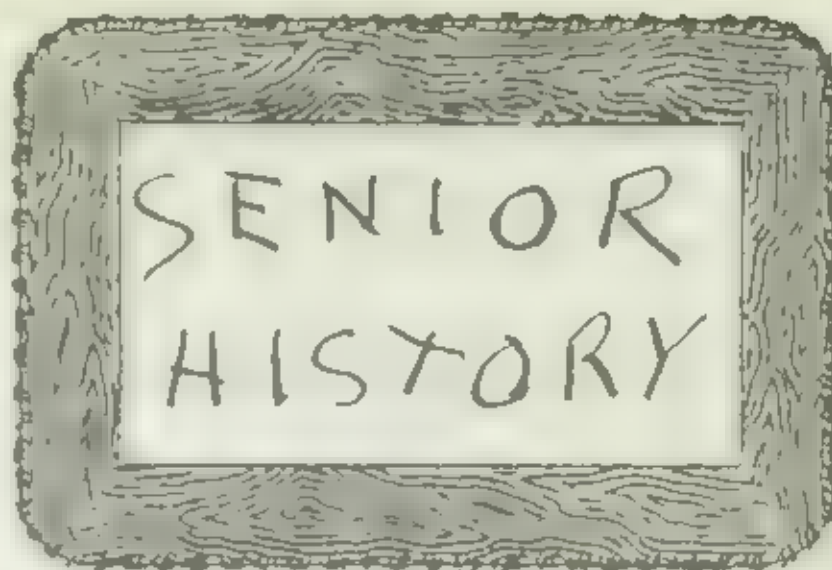

Both the boys' and the girls' basketball teams won the intramural championships.

The class gave the play, "Adam's Evening" two nights in November. Ellis Aeschliman as Adam, and Anna Spengler, his wife, carried the leads.

At the beginning of the senior year, the class elected Glen Miller president, Anna Spengler vice-president, Arleta Miller secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Rox sponsor.

The class held their Christmas party at Lois Beck's house. They first went caroling to a number of homes in the community. The remainder of the evening, with no lack of fun, was taken up with games, refreshments, and a grab gift exchange.

The following ten students took the annual senior scholarship tests: William Nofziger, Marvin Frey, Imogene Beck, Lois Beck, Luana Leininger, Glen Miller, Arleta Miller, Anna Spengler, Mary Alice Nofziger, and Marlin Rupp. Marvin Frey placed fifth in the county, and William Nofziger thirteenth.

This year the class again went to Columbus with the juniors for the annual junior-senior trip. A number of students also took part in the district and state music contests.

Imogene Beck was chosen as editor of the "Lariat." Luana Leininger was assistant editor and William Nofziger business manager. Marilyn Haskell was in charge of the mimeoscope work and Lois Beck of the mimeograph work. The copy-writing was done by Arleta Miller, assisted by Dick Sharman. Anna Spengler was the art editor. Bob Eichor assisted her. Bueta Yoder and Lois Merrillat were responsible for the typing. The picture mounting was done by Mary Alice Nofziger. Marlin Rupp was the photographer.

The other members of the class assisted in the various duties, such as typing, sorting, and making the dummy.

The class honors went to Marvin Frey, William Nofziger, and Lois Beck. Marvin and William tied for valedictorians, and Lois Beck was salutatorian.

Baccalaureate service was held on May 21. The Rev. Russel Dietch from the Christian Church in Wauseon was the speaker.

Commencement was held on Tuesday evening, May 23. The speaker was Mr. Joseph L. Tucker, from Ft. Wayne, Indiana. His subject was "The Masks You Wear."

The last event of the year was the class night program which was a vaudeville show. On this occasion the salutatory and valedictories for the class were given.

Miss Hostetler, Anna Rose Meller, Margie Burkholder, Ruth Gisel, Martha May Zimmerman, Marilyn Gearig, Shirley Grime, Anna Nofziger, Rosa Waidelich, Arlene Beck, Glenn Davis, Clarence Bruner, Richard Gantsche, Bernice Rupp, Roger Gilson, Sarah Jane Robinson, Fern Woll.

In small picture: Lester King, Emogene Zimmerman.

Eighteen students made up the junior class this year. Lester King was the president; Margie Burkholder, vice-president; and Anna Nofziger, secretary-treasurer. Miss Hostetler was their sponsor.

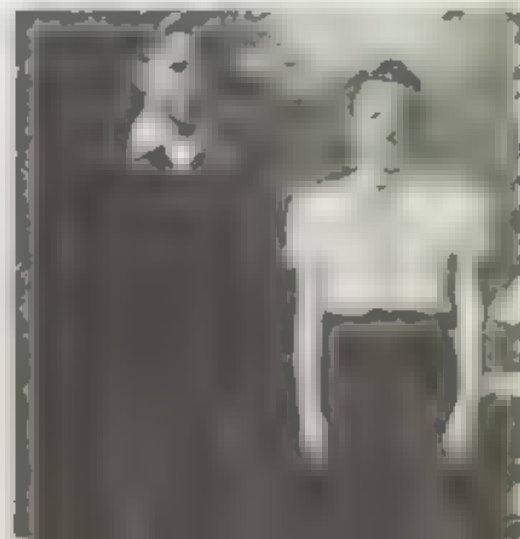

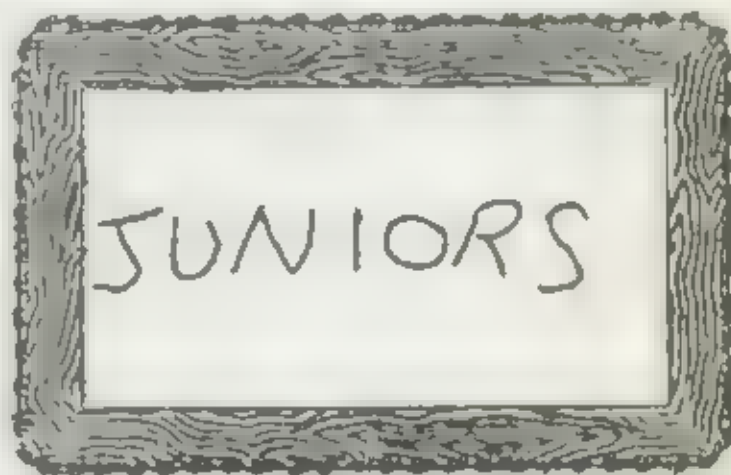

The class was kept busy throughout the year selling candy at noon. They also sold sandwiches for nine weeks.

Roger Gilson was outstanding for his excellent basketball record during the season. Clarence Bruner was also on the basketball squad.

The class gave their play, "Brother Goose," on April 20 and 21. Anna Nofziger and Roger Gilson played the leading roles.

The class took a trip to Columbus with the seniors the latter part of April. There they visited several state institutions and a radio station.

May 6 was the date of the banquet which they gave for the seniors.

In small picture: Dale Klopfenstein, Mary Schrock, Ervin Miller.

At the beginning of the school year the sophomore class chose their officers as follows: president, Shirley Nofziger; vice president, Darold Riegsecker; and secretary treasurer, Edith Haskell. Mr. Pollock was chosen as their sponsor.

The class had a good time initiating the freshmen. Then, as usual, they were given a party in return by the freshmen.

One member of the class, Edith Haskell, was a cheerleader. James Waidelich, Curtis Spengler, John Rychener, Ralph Bruner, and Ralph Gasche were on the basketball squad.

The sophomore girls became champions of girls' intramural basketball.

Their English class gave a radio play, "My Client--Curley," as an assembly program in May. Leading roles were read by Wesley Wyse and Curtis Spengler. The Announcer was James Waidelich. All the other members of the class participated also. 28

In small picture: Gaylene Downing, Jane Guerrero, Doris Rufenacht, Joan Leupp, Lucile Dunning.

With an enrollment of 36 the freshmen had the honor of being the largest class in high school. Two members, Barbara Huyck and Mary Ellen Nafziger withdrew but two more, Gaylene Downing and Lucile Dunning, were added.

Robert Yoder served as president of the class, Junior Grieser, vice-president; Marilyn Nofziger, secretary; and Mary Louise Miller, treasurer. Miss King sponsored the class.

Early in the year came the inevitable initiation day. At the order of the sophomores the class came to school dressed in pajamas. A party in the evening completed the initiation activities. In March they gave the sophomores a return party.

Two members of the class, Delight Grieser and Claudette Rupp, were junior-high cheerleaders.

Back row of seats: L. J. Burkholder, Kenneth Miller, Betty Beck, Mabel Ann Roth, Donnabelle Riegsecker, Dorothy Beck, Elaine Rychener, Shari Weber, Shirley Wanner, Mr. Ray.

In small picture: Gene Richer.

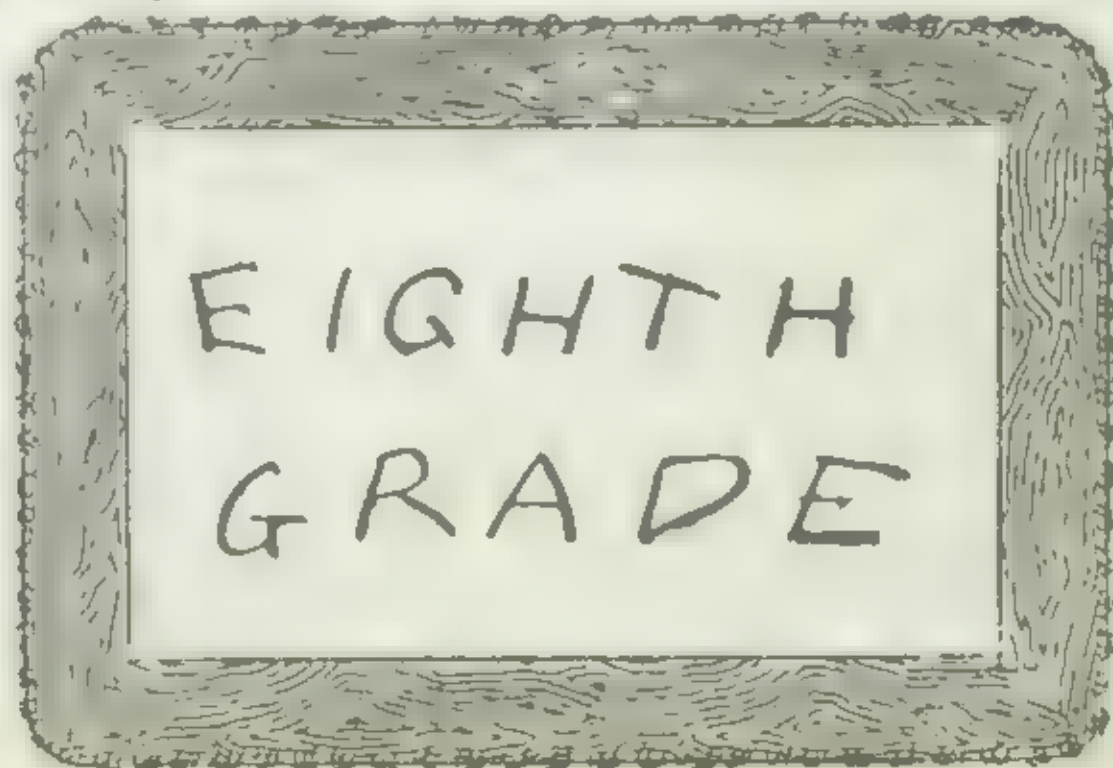

A small group of 18 students composed the eighth grade. Kenneth Miller was their president; Margaret Rupp, vice president; Eugene Rieber, secretary; and Norma Nofziger, treasurer. They chose Mr. Ray to be their sponsor.

Three boys from the class were on the junior-high basketball team. They were L. J. Burkholder, James Davis, and Jean Beck.

On April 21, the class took their annual eighth grade scholarship tests. Elaine Rychener received the highest score, Shari Weber placed second, and Donnabelle Riegsecker was third.

Herbert Peters was a member of the class for a short time but left to stay in Michigan.

They had both a Halloween and a Christmas party. They visited the site of the Battle of Fallen Timbers near Maumee in May.

SEVENTH GRADE

The seventh grade opened the year with 26 students. But two new students, Janice Leupp, and Barbara Downing, enrolled, raising the number to 28.

The class chose Junior Beck to be their president, Roger Schmitz, vice-president; and Mabel Ann Rupp, secretary-treasurer. Miss Wyse was their sponsor.

In the fall, the class had a wiener roast at John Merillat's house. At Christmas they had a Christmas party with a grab gift exchange. They also had a hay ride in May.

Charles Rupp, Howard Snyder, Roger Schmitz, James Gasche, Charles Schmucker, Roger Krieger, and Junior Beck were on the junior-high basketball squad.

Both the boys and the girls were active in intramural sports.

Standing: Junior Beck, Mabel Ann Rupp, Charles Rupp, Howard Snyder, Miss Wyse, Glenn Kauffman, Roger Krieger, Carl Frey.

SIXTH GRADE

The total enrollment of the sixth grade was 35. LaMar Gisell moved to Archbold. Two new students, Arnold Ebersole and Edward Freeman, entered after the first of the year.

The class took part in the Thanksgiving program by giving two playlets.

At Christmas time the class held a gift exchange. They celebrated Valentine Day with a party. The class also gave a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. Rychener.

Six boys played on the junior high basketball team. They were Billy Gasche, Neil Weber, Larry Grieser, Paul Gilson, Charles Davis, and John Gasche.

Third row: Charles Davis, Paul Short, John Gasche.

Fourth row: Dale Miller, Garold Beck.

Fifth row: James Reynolds, Paul Gilson, Carolyn Rufenacht.

Sixth row: Glenden Rupp, Loretta Rupp.

Seventh row: Larry Rychener, Burdell Hofzinger, Janeth Hofzinger.

Eighth row: Lyle Friesen, Dean Hofzinger.

Ninth row: Larry Grieser, Edward Freeman.

Tenth row: Billy Gasche, LaMar Gisell, Ronald Hofzinger.

Eleventh row: Janice Hofzinger, Joyce Grieser, Marilyn Wyse.

Bottom row: Denver Hofzinger, Neil Weber, Mary Ellen Short, Charles Yoder.

In small picture: Phyllis Klopfenstein, Kenneth Peters.

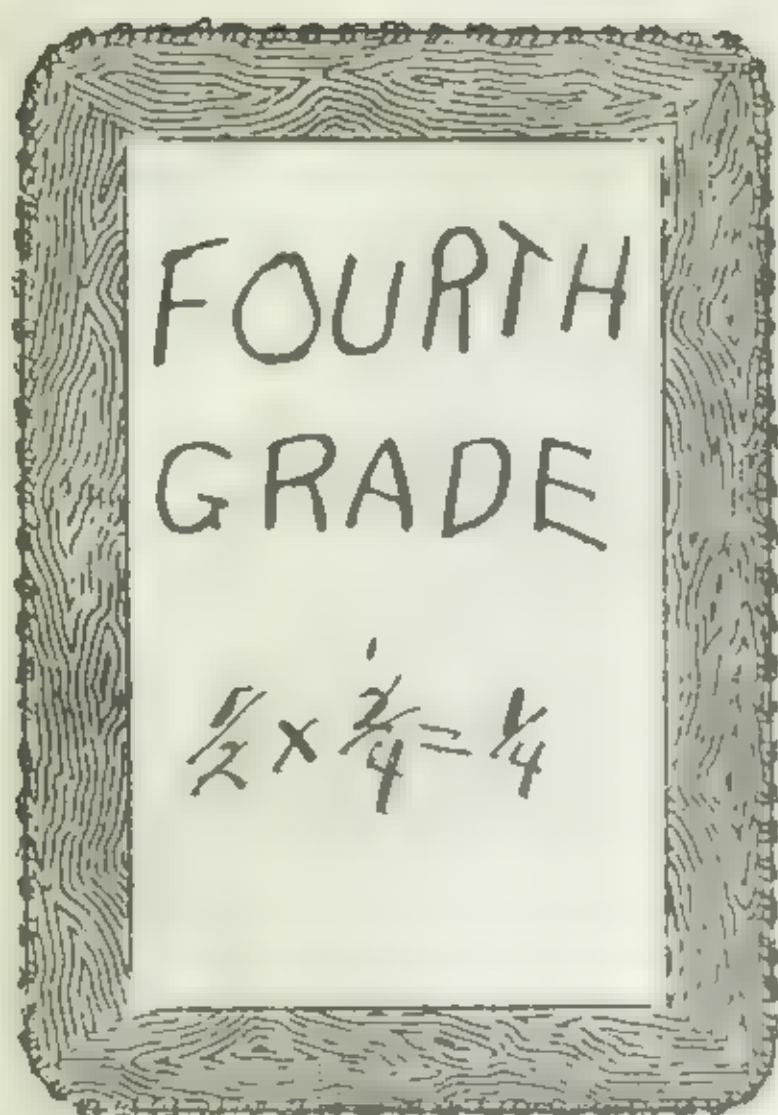

The fifth grade had thirty pupils. The class had two new students—Kenneth Peters and Phyllis Klopfenstein.

One of the projects of the class was selling seeds. The group also had a watermelon contest. Bonnie Gearig won the first prize for raising the largest watermelon. Then the class held a party at which they ate the melons.

For the Thanksgiving program, the class gave the playlet, "The First Thanksgiving Day."

The class had a Valentine exchange on February 14. Miss Spiess again was the teacher.

The fourth grade had 34 students. The only loss in the class was that of Nadine Gisell, who moved to the Archbold district early in the spring. That left 33 for the rest of the year, for no new students entered the class.

The class had a seed-selling contest to see who could sell the most seeds. Vincent Rupp was class winner. This project was carried on in cooperation with the fifth grade.

The group had several parties during the year. They had a Christmas party with a gift exchange and a Valentine exchange on February 14. For Miss Miller's birthday, they gave her a surprise birthday party.

The class also took part in the Thanksgiving program. They gave a choral reading and sang several songs.

Four members of the class took instrumental music lessons. Mervin Beck and Janet Schmucker took violin lessons. Vincent Rupp and Ronald Beck took trumpet lessons.

Thirty-five pupils made up the third grade. Two new students, Ronny Leupp and Carlos Fonseca, entered the class during the year.

T h e class had a Christmas party during which they held a gift exchange, and also a Valentine party. But t h e party they probably enjoyed most was the surprise party they gave to Mrs. Rex on her birthday.

They had quantities of food at this party. They enjoyed three d i f f e r e n t kinds of cookies, four kinds of popcorn, cupcakes, candy, soft drinks, and apples.

The class participated in presenting "Mother Goose Entertains" for the school's Christmas program.

In small picture: Allen Richards, Lynn Short, Lenda Burchett, Larry Price, Domingo Fonseca.

With the addition of six new members, the number of children in the second grade was increased to 37 by the end of the year. The new students were Lenda Burchett, Paul Freeman, Domingo Fonseca, Lynn Short, Larry Price, and Allen Richards.

As an interesting project, the class raised fish. They also had parties for Christmas and Valentine Day. They co-operated with the first and third grades in giving the Christmas assembly program.

The first grade had 44 pupils. Dale Roth moved away during the year, but three new children entered. They were Arnold Freeman and Deloris and Olivia Fonseca.

The class enjoyed taking part in the Christmas program which was given for the school. With grades 2 and 3, they gave the playlet "Mother Goose Entertains."

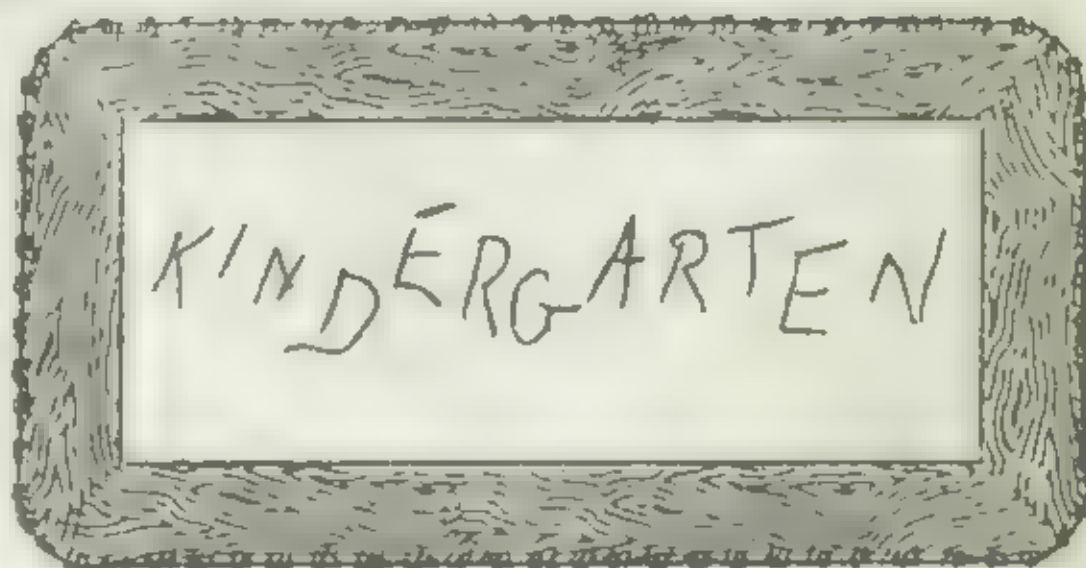

They celebrated Christmas by having a gift exchange. They had a Valentine party and on Easter the Easter bunny left two nests in their room.

The kindergarten started with 31 children but the number grew to forty by the end of the year. Vernon Hofziger, Jr., who moved to Archbold, was the only one to leave the group. Three students entered during the second week of school. Those who entered later were Larry Peters, Julio Fonseca, Jesse Fonseca, Larry Leupp, Leslie Leupp, and Beverly Short.

The class enjoyed singing and clay-modeling most among their varied activities. They also enjoyed making puppets and furniture for a puppet show, "The Three Bears," which they gave for the first three grades, Mr. Gottschalk, some high school girls, and many of their parents. The snapshot shows a picture of "The Three Bears." Names of pupils in picture are given below.

Top row: Jimmy Ray, Joan Schultz, Sue Ann Blosser, Marilyn Britsch, Benny Avina, Carolyn Westhoven, Randy Wanner, Janette Rupp, Jimmy Hafziger.

For those students interested in music, there are a number of groups open for their participation. Music is becoming increasingly more important as an extra-curricular activity.

Early in the school year, Mr. Edington began holding auditions for mixed choir. From the auditions, 38 were chosen. The choir took part in several school concerts. On April 15, they went to Ada, Ohio, to compete in the district music contest. By receiving a superior rating there, they were made eligible for state competition. The state contest was held at Springfield, where the choir received an excellent rating.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs were open to all students from the upper four grades who wished to sing in them. Besides singing in concerts, they also competed in the district contest where both received excellent ratings.

The band consisted of grade students as well as of high school students. They played at basketball games, pep meetings, school concerts, and on other occasions.

The orchestra was started between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Except for one player, the string section was made up entirely of beginning players. They made their debut at the baccalaureate service in May.

This year a junior chorus, composed of seventh and eighth graders, was organized. The chorus took part in concerts and also sang at the baccalaureate service.

Mr. Edington encouraged the members of the larger music groups to organize into small ensembles. The results of this encouragement was the establishment of ten ensembles. This small group practice strengthened the larger groups.

The boys' ensemble number 1 was organized at the beginning of the school year as a quartet—Charles Beck, Glen Miller, William Nofziger, and Dick Sharman. With an additional member, Curtis Spengler, they entered the district music contest as a quintet. There they received a superior rating. They also received a superior rating at the state contest at Westerville.

The boys' ensemble number 2 received an excellent rating at the district contest. Those in the ensemble were Merle Frey, Robert Eicher, Clarence Bruner, Marlin Miller, Vincent Frey, Marvin Frey, Merrill Nofziger, and Ervin Miller.

Those in the girls' ensemble number 1 were Arleta Miller, Luana Leininger, Marilyn Haskell, Nancy Porter, Lois Merrillat, and Edith Haskell. They received an excellent rating at the district music contest.

The girls' ensemble number 2 received a superior rating at both the district and state contests. Members of the sextet were Laura Jane and Marilyn Gearig, Evelyn Short, Phyllis Frey, Marilyn Frey, and Clemma Roth.

The mixed octet, consisting of Luana Leininger, Marilyn Haskell, Lois Merrillat, Edith Haskell, Charles Beck, Glen Miller, William Nofziger, and Dick Sharman, was organized at the beginning of the year. At the district contest, they were rated superior and at the state excellent.

The mixed ensemble number 2 received an excellent rating at the district contest. Those in the quartet were Glenda and Marilyn Frey, Lester King, and Marlin Miller.

Ralph Bruner, Phyllis Schmu c k e r, Carol Vonier, and Delight Grieser entered the district music contest as a clarinet quartet. They were rated very good.

The brass quartet—Curtis Spengler, James Waidelich, John Rychener, and Ralph Gasche—rated excellent at the district music contest.

Glenda Frey and Elaine Rychener entered the district contest as piano soloists. Each of the girls received an excellent rating on her performance.

Lester King received a very good rating on his tenor solo. He sang "I Come To Thee."

Shari Weber received an excellent rating at the district contest on her trumpet solo.

The new Smith-Hughes vocational agriculture program attracted 37 boys. Under this program the State of Ohio furnished a part of the money to change the old shop to an agriculture classroom and to convert a part of the bus shed into a modern shop to be used until permanent quarters could be provided.

Two agriculture classes were conducted by Mr. Pollock, the new teacher--freshman-sophomore and junior-senior. Various problems pertaining to agriculture were discussed in class. Much time was spent in the shop on various jobs. Tractors and farm machinery, brought in by the boys, were studied and repaired.

Each boy was to have at least one crop and one livestock project during the year. An agreement was to be worked out with the boy's father and Mr. Pollock as to buying and feeding the livestock or finding land and raising a crop. Accurate records were kept on each one.

The class also took various field trips. They included trips to nearby and some distant farms to see what is actually being done by progressive farmers, as well as trips to live stock shows and other projects.

This was the first year for a Future Farmers of America Chapter in Pettisville High School. The boys had a fair-sized chapter and chose the following officers: Jim Grieser president, Bob Eicher vice-president, Roger Gilson secretary, Dick Sharman reporter and Ernie Fowler treasurer. Mr. Pollock, the agriculture teacher, served as adviser.

The chapter had a regular scheduled meeting the first Wednesday of each month but it also had special meetings and officers' meetings several times.

At night meetings refreshments were served and a recreational program featured.

The Student Council is an organization to promote student participation in practicing democratic procedures of school government. The organization is composed of representatives from each of the upper six grades.

The Student Council sponsored a magazine selling contest. The contest was held between grades 7-9-11 and 8-10-12. Since the even grades lost the contest, they sponsored the showing of the movie "The Enchanted Forest" to the entire school. The money earned from the contest was used to pay for a lyceum series.

This year, for the first time, the Student Council joined the National Association of Student Councils. They received a charter signifying membership.

The task of revising the constitution was taken up by the Council. Several new amendments have been proposed.

In order to report past happenings and announce future events to the school and the community, the journalism class again put out "Pet Echoes." It is a weekly publication with a broad circulation which this year reached 260 paid subscriptions.

At the Northwestern Ohio District Journalism convention on April 22, "Pet Echoes" won the trophy for the best mimeographed school newspaper in Northwestern Ohio. This was the second year in succession that "Pet Echoes" won this honor. The paper was also given a superior rating at the convention.

The organization also sponsored an all-high school party at which the final games of the intramural basketball tournament were played off.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lantz were again the school custodians, as they have been for fifteen years. They have been doing the janitor work since November 1935.

There were four other janitors before Mr. Lantz. The first custodian was Ora Krieger, who was here from the time the present school started until December of the same year, 1929. Then J. H. Zehr was janitor for the rest of the year. For the school year of 1930-1931, Frank C. Hampshire served as janitor. Then Jacob C. Hadd was custodian up to the time of his death in October 1934. For several weeks, Mr. Abts took over the work. Then Mr. Lantz began working and has held the job ever since.

The busdrivers are important in this school since the majority of the students are rural.

Vincent Beck, Harvey Beck Jr., and Bill Ziegler were the new busdrivers. The others were veterans of several years' standing. When Vincent Beck resigned to devote his full time to his insurance business, Harley Beck took his place.

PLAY BALL

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Richard Sherman, Coach Rex, Kenneth Nofziger, Roger Gilson, James Grieser, Robert Eicher, Ernest Fowler.

This year's varsity, in comparison with the last few years, had a successful season. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Rex, the Blackbirds won 5 and lost 13 of their regular season games. They also won their first tournament game since 1945. In spite of their definite improvement, the boys lost their second and third tournament games and were thus eliminated from competition.

The forwards for the team consisted of Jim Grieser, who led the team in rebounding, Kenny Nofziger, the hard-driving forward who always managed to get through, and Bob Eicher, an artist on long shots.

The guards were Ernie Fowler, a fast little fellow, who really concentrated on the basket, Dick Sherman a specialist in split-vision passing, and Clarence Bruner who alternated playing forward and guard.

Roger Gilson, the team's center, was always worth a lot of points on his hook and lay-up shots.

SENIOR CHEERLEADERS

Who were responsible for the enthusiastic spirit of pep meetings and composed new yells? And who were more faithful in standing behind the basketball team during the games than the four senior high cheerleaders? They deserve a great deal of credit for what they did.

Through the entire season they were busy "rooting" for the team. They were noted for the intriguing routines they worked out.

The five boys who saw the most action on the reserve team were Ralph Gasche at center, John Rychener and Jim Waidelich at forward, Ralph Bruner and Curtis Spengler at guard. The reserves were coached by Mr. Rex who did a very good job with them. The reserves had a win-lose record of 11 wins and 8 losses.

Many of the boys on the reserve team saw action in varsity games as substitutes and did a fine job. Because there were no substitutes for the reserves in many games, the boys had to play carefully and cleanly. Working under this handicap, the boys always made a good showing for Pettisville.

The boosters did a very fine job this year. They sold pop, candy, and popcorn at all the home games. Probably the most important highlight of the year was the tobogganing party which they arranged at Pokagan Park, Indiana. This was the first experience of the kind for most of the group who attended, and they

The boys were honored at a number of suppers and lunches this year.

The boosters gave them a lunch at Mary Jo Miley's after which the girls stayed for a slumber party.

Sarah Jane Robinson was head booster this year and June Gilson was secretary-treasurer.

A number of boys reported for basketball on the junior high team, but most of them were in the sixth and seventh grades and, therefore, too small in competition with taller teams.

The team did not have a very good winning record, but they were always cheerful and their ability can not be judged by a record. Mr. Springer coached the little Blackbirds and did a fine job.

The boys who saw the most action on the team were Paul Griesser, L. J. Burkholder, Charles Rupp, Howard Snyder, Roger Schmits, and Junior Beck.

Also Jim Rupp must be given credit here for his faithful job as manager not only on the junior high team but on the varsity, reserves, and in baseball. as wee Jim did a fine job and each boy who participated in athletics was grateful for his services.

Our little cheerleaders seemed to be very outstanding this year in their black and white striped dresses. Although their team did not win many games the girls were right behind them with moral support.

The boosters also appreciated the help of the junior-high cheerleaders because they helped sell refreshments at the games.

Fifteen boys reported out for baseball this year, making competition for any player to obtain a position on the first squad. The team was coached by Mr. Springer, and showed a definite improvement over last year. Ten games, of which one was won and one called because of darkness, were played in the fall. The schedule for the spring was unobtainable, but about the same number of games were played then.

The seven certain starters for the season were Dick Sharman third base, Ernie Fowler left field, Will Nofziger pitcher, Kenny Nofziger catcher, Bob Eicher first base, Jim Waidelich right field, Roger Gilson center field. The rest of the squad alternated the other positions. Sharman, Eicher, and Gilson also relief-pitched.

Richard Gantsche, Wesley Wyse, and Dale Klopfenstein, not pictured, came out for spring baseball. Ralph Gasche and Lowell Meller were out only in the fall.

Lettermen are boys who have won at least one letter in at least one sport. Winning a letter in baseball and basketball both this year were Dick Sharman, Ernie Fowler, Bob Eicher, Kenny Nofziger, and Roger Gilson. Winning a letter in baseball alone were Will Nofziger, Jim Waidelich, Wesley Wyse, Glen Davis. Winning a letter in basketball alone were Jim Grieser and Clarence Bruner.

The members of the teams each elected an honorary captain the last day of school. They elected Ernie Fowler basketball captain and Dick Sharman baseball captain. The captain's letters each had a small black c in the letter monogram P.

The letters were awarded the last day of school.

PAST

FUTURE

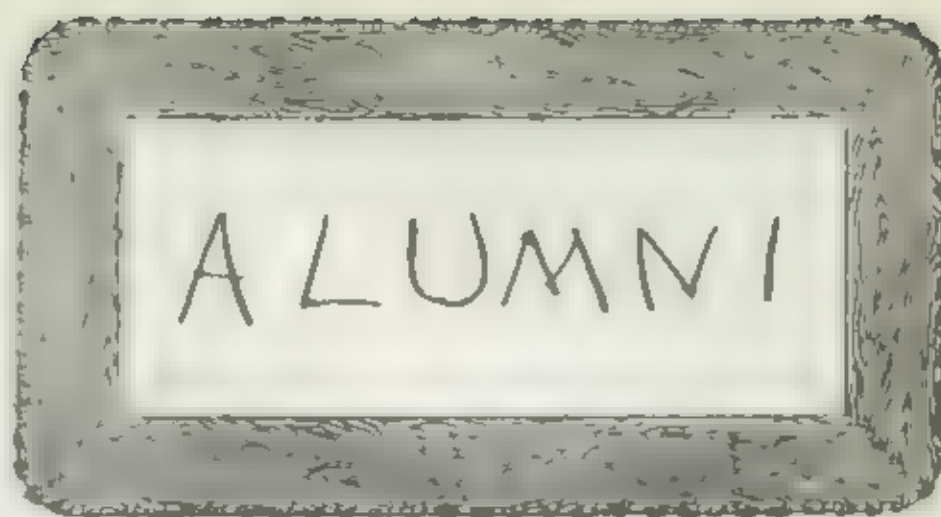

In 1931, the first high school class was graduated from Pettisville School. The class had 25 members, a number which no class has ever reached since. Although school was held in the new building during the preceding year there was no senior class because the seniors of the Pettisville district finished at the schools where they had started their high school work.

Now twenty classes have graduated, with a total of 392 graduates. This number includes the class of 1950, with 22 members. Of this number, only two have died. Neither of these were natural deaths. The two are Kenneth Yoder, who died in an automobile accident, and Edward Ziegler, who was killed in France in World War II.

The alumni are scattered over many states from Massachusetts to California, and several are in foreign countries. The predominating occupation among the men is farming, and for the women, being housewives. There are also nurses, teachers, businessmen, ministers, missionaries.

An alumni banquet was held in the school auditorium on Friday evening, May 26. This was the first alumni reunion in eight years. It was attended by about 270.

The people of this community saw a long-awaited dream fulfilled in the fall of 1929, when a new modern school building was dedicated, and for the first time Pettisville could boast a full 12-year school program with a faculty of 12 members, headed by Supt. J. J. Rychener.

Of the original faculty, three members still remain at Pettisville School—Mr. S. M. Gottschalk, now superintendent, Miss Ruth K. Wyse, and Miss Alta Spiess.

As the years rolled on, it was increasingly clear that the facilities of the present building were becoming inadequate for the needs of the community. Especially needed were an expanded agriculture program and more adequate music quarters. The music building had been taken over by the kindergarten when it was organized at a time when the music program was curtailed because of a shortage of music teachers during the war.

The need for a cafeteria was also apparent as all but a handful of students remain at school during the noon hour. More and more students have abandoned the dinner pail for purchased lunches, and the school lacked facilities for serving.

Community agitation for action came to a head last fall when a proposed bond issue for $166,000 for a new addition was approved by the voters by an overwhelming vote of 232 to 25 or by 90.3 per cent. The issue passed by a greater majority than any other school bond issue in Northwestern Ohio, a remarkable record.

The election had been preceded by a great deal of effort on the part of the school board and Supt. Gottschalk. The architect firm of Britsch and Menger of Toledo was engaged to draw up tentative plans. Arrangements and publicity for the election had to be planned. A public meeting was held at the school with Mr. Britsch present to explain the proposed plan and to answer questions about it.

Various changes in the original plan were made before the final blueprints were approved. Bids for contracts were to be opened on July 10, after which it was hoped work would start immediately.

The plans include some changes in the present building and a completely new wing. The improved auditorium will include the present one, widened by removal of the stage and dressing rooms and lengthened by the extension of the new wing to the south. This change will enlarge the playing floor to 42 by 80 feet.

The present incline seats will be left as they are and additional ones placed in the extension. Sufficient space on the east side will accommodate removable bleachers to seat large crowds at games.

Locker rooms for both boys and girls will occupy quarters below the stage, and an office for the athletic director will overlook the gymnasium floor. The stage, which will be about twice the size of the present one, will be placed at the south end of the auditorium. Dressing rooms on either side will be convenient to the stage.

Quarters for the music department are to be behind the stage, on a level with it. A movable wall will separate the stage from the large rehearsal room. Removal of the wall will increase the stage area to a size large enough to hold extremely large groups. Two practice rooms, storage rooms, and an office for the director complete the music rooms.

The cafeteria, with dining room and kitchen, will occupy much of the space below the stage and music rooms.

The farm shop and agriculture room will be located in the southeast corner of the new wing. In order to comply with state regulations of the Smith-Hughes program, which the school was able to secure for the first time this year, the quarters for this department must be in the main building of the school plant. The temporary shop is now located in the bus building and will be abandoned.

When the addition is completed, the Pettisville School district will again be able to boast of adequate facilities for today's school needs. It speaks well for the progressiveness of the community that it is eager to give to its youth the best that can be provided in modern education, to fit it for life today.
